About

Hi, I'm Pedro Fontoura. I am a front-end developer and graphic designer based in Belém, state of Pará, Brazil. My goal is to help people and companies with a small budget to promote their services to the world!

I started to freelance early in this year. Now I'm learning even more than before and building a portfolio to show people and companies my work.

Freelance
I started freelancing this year. I'm working in three websites. These can be visualized in my portfolio website.

- Personal portfolio
Built to provide a clean and intuitive experience. There is some nice effects to improve the user experience. The web's three fundamental pillars are the core of this project.

- Dr. Daniel Godoi
Website for dentist Daniel Godoi. It was built with the basics web technologies and some libraries.

- Wachito Co.
Minimalist catalog website for a local clothing brand. It was built with the basic css technologies and some libraries to improve the visual experience.
